LOS ANGELES HIGH SCHOOL

MCMLXII

Dedication

Miss Dorothy Albright

Fifty years ago this month an attractive young girl stepped up to the center of the Philharmonic Auditorium stage and delivered a graduation speech. The occasion was Los Angeles High School's 1912 commencement exercises. The attractive senior was Dorothy Albright.

A few days from now another June graduation will take place for Miss Albright. This Friday, almost 50 years to the day that she received her diploma, Miss Albright will retire from the faculty of her alma mater.

In the intervening half century since Miss Albright was graduated from Rome, she has crammed a busy lifetime of interesting experiences. At Stanford her major professor was the famed psychologist, Dr. Lewis M. Terman, with whom she worked on the Stanford Revision of the Binet I.Q. test. After earning her degree from Stanford, Miss Albright did graduate work at Columbia University. Her summers away from her graduate studies were spent as the tutor of the granddaughter of J. P. Morgan, Sr., who in his lifetime was one of the richest and most powerful men in the world.

Appointed a psychologist with the U.S. Veterans Bureau in 1920, Miss Albright did pioneering work as a psychologist and speech specialist in neuro-psychiatric hospitals. But in 1925 her abiding affection for L.A. High drew her back to Rome, and on Feb. 14, 1925, she began a teaching career here that has continued uninterruptedly for 37 years. "Versatility" is a word that is appropriate in describing Miss Albright's teaching career at L.A. High. Among the subjects she has taught are life science, swimming (she was one of the first instructors when Oliver Pool was opened the year the 1932 Olympic games were held in this city), badminton, tennis, corrective physical education, English, contemporary American problems, and world geography.

Always vitally interested in L.A. High's students, Miss Albright received a special opportunity to serve them when she was appointed a grade counselor in 1928. Her final year in that post was 1950, when she and Mrs. Marie Ryan counseled a huge graduating class of 662 seniors.

A host of her students have won distinction in various fields. One of the most famed is Jose Quintero, the noted Broadway producer of such plays as "Medea", "The Roman Spring of Mrs. Stone", and the Pulitzer Prize winner, "Long Day's Journey Into Night". Quintero, who is currently directing Thornton Wilder's new series of one-act plays, portrayed the part of Senor Pell Agra in a puppet play which Miss Albright's science students presented.

Every continent except Australia has been visited by L.A. High's champion globe-trotter. Her around-the-world jaunt last summer was preceded by trips to Europe, Mexico, Alaska, the Caribbean, and all the capital cities of South America.

But no matter where Miss Albright's travels may take her in the years that lie ahead, Rome's campus will always be her home port of call, for Miss Albright's many years of dedicated service to L.A. High have woven her life inextricably into the fabric of our school's history and traditions.

If you listen closely this Friday when the names of graduating seniors are called perhaps you'll hear an almost ghostly voice whisper, "Dorothy Albright, S'62—Summa Cum Laude!"

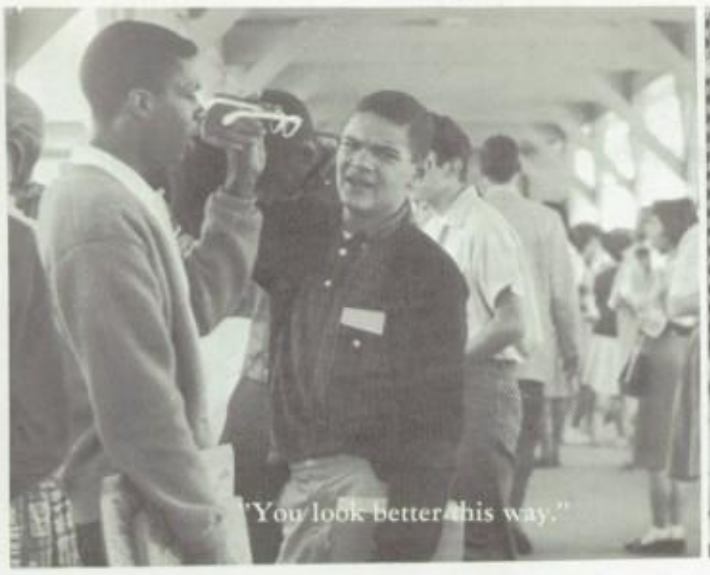
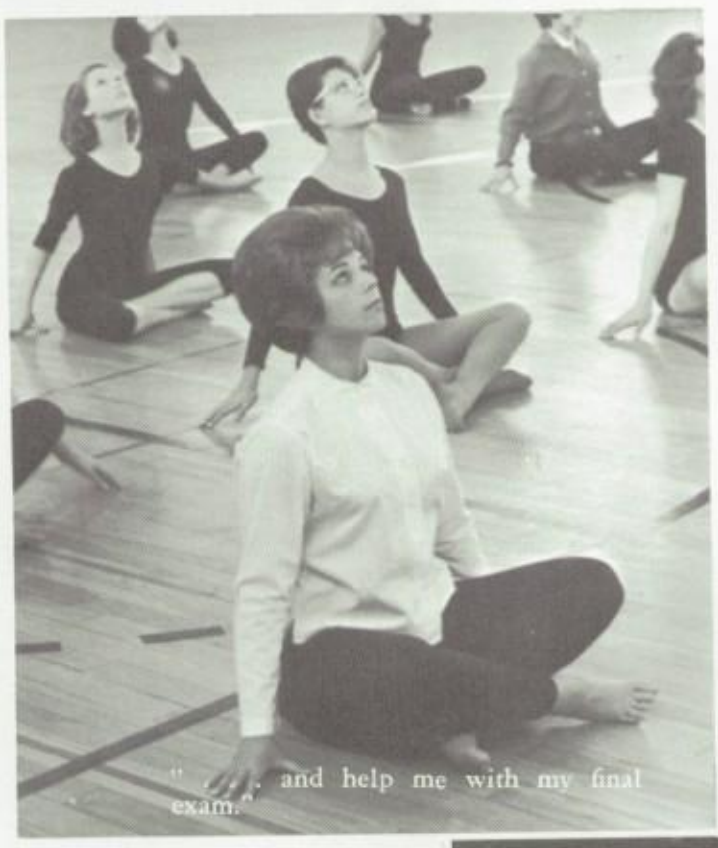
"You mean you're really from L. A. High!"



"You look better this way."

"Personally, I don't care for roasted beetles."

"Hey, her shoe came off!"



"... and help me with my final exam."

"I doubt if it'll sweep the nation."

"It sure smells odd."

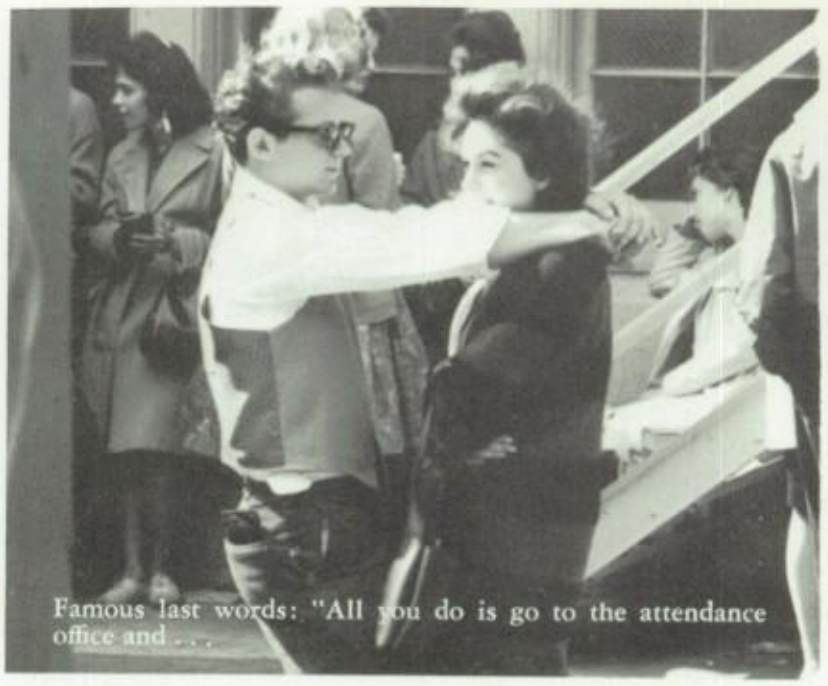
"Take it—this is getting embarrassing."

"I know it's here somewhere!"

"Look, boys, here I am!"

Candid Camera

"I know it's in here somewhere—I saw it hopping around."



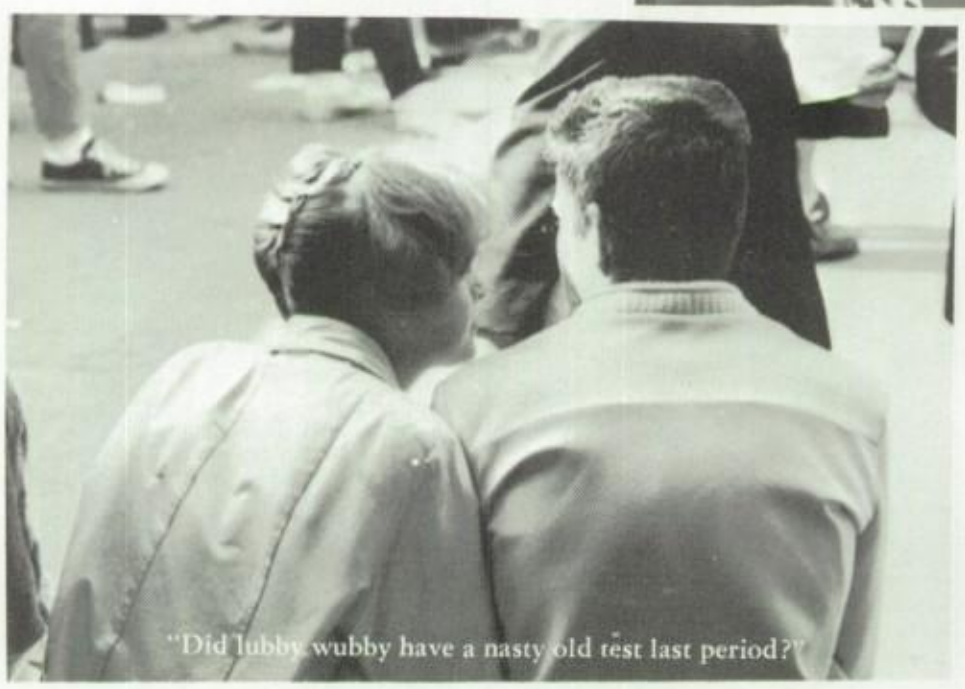
Famous last words: "All you do is go to the attendance office and . . ."

Let's not overdo the Clean Campus bit!

"Don't bug me, bub!"

"Don't just stand there—say something."

The Twist, solo style.



"Did lubby wubby have a nasty old test last period?"

"Good morning, class!"

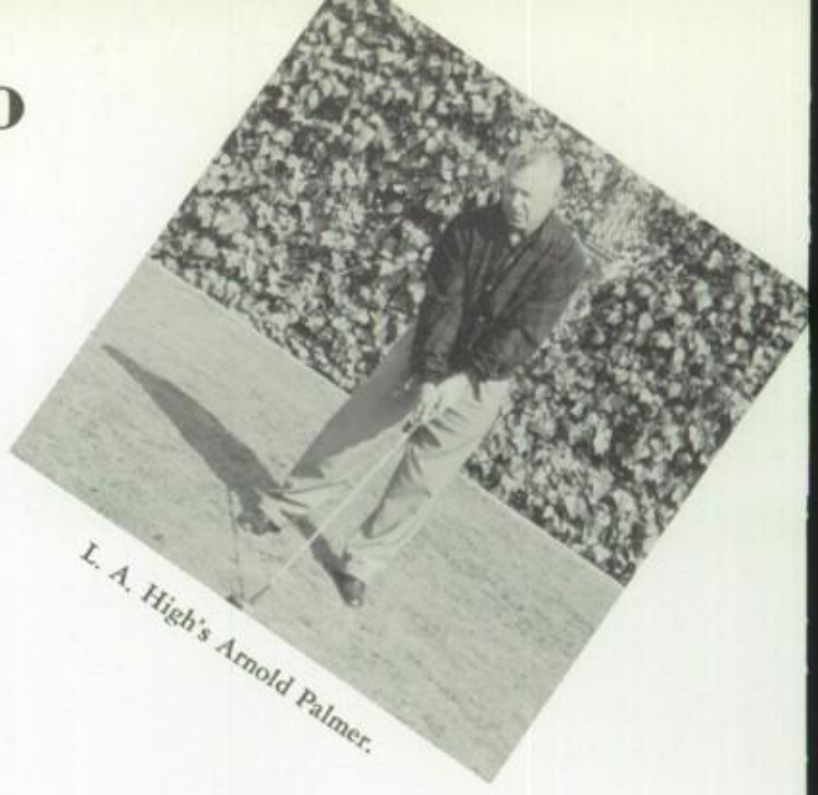
A Tribute to a Great Coach

Ready for the kickoff.



L. A. High's Arnold Palmer.

Mr. Harry Edelson

With a deep appreciation of the sterling contribution that Coach Harry Edelson has made to L.A. High's athletic program, the 1962 Roman yearbook staff takes pleasure in dedicating the Sports Section of the annual to Mr. Edelson.

In the ten years that he directed the Roman gridiron forces, L.A. played eighty-six games. In sixty-five of those contests the Blue and White warriors walked off the field victorious. Only 21 losses were suffered in that decade, and only one game ended in a tie. He produced innumerable players who won all-league and all-city honors, and two of them—Clint Whitfield and Bob Levingston—were named the city's Player of the Year. Five league titles were won by Coach Edelson's teams, and three times he guided them to the city finals. On one occasion L.A. lost the city crown by the narrowest of margins to a Manual Arts team that had as one of its players no less a star than Jon Arnett, now the Rams' all-time great. Before coming to L.A. High, Mr. Edelson also compiled a brilliant coaching record at Jefferson and Fremont. At the latter school he accomplished the almost unheard of feat of winning the city championship three years in a row. Several seasons ago a booklet was published which listed the coaching records of the leading football mentors in the country. Mr. Edelson's all-time percentage of victories was over .800, which, the publication pointed out, put him among the top ten coaches in the nation.

At the conclusion of the 1960 season, which saw him and Co-Coach Jim Pendleton guide the Romans to the city play-off finals, he announced his retirement from his football coaching duties. However, he maintains a lively interest in Rome's gridiron teams, and still plays an important role on the football scene as a nationally-known official at football games.

Mr. Edelson continues to teach physical education classes and coach the field events men on L.A.'s track teams. It is Rome's good fortune that this should be so. The Roman yearbook staff, momentarily stepping behind the teacher's desk, is happy to be able to give straight A's and all E's to Coach Harry Edelson—gentleman, outstanding football mentor, and inspiration to L.A. High's young people.

Rome's 1961 Varsity Football Warriors

L.A.'s varsity football team started off the season in fine style by whipping their first two opponents. Led by team captain and three-year letterman Monwell Fuller, along with second-string all-city guard Roger De Marr, the team looked at times to be one of the city's best. However, a few demoralizing heartbreakers hurt the team immensely. As a result of the fine coaching of Mr. Pendleton and Mr. Goldin, the team tied for third in the rough Southern League.

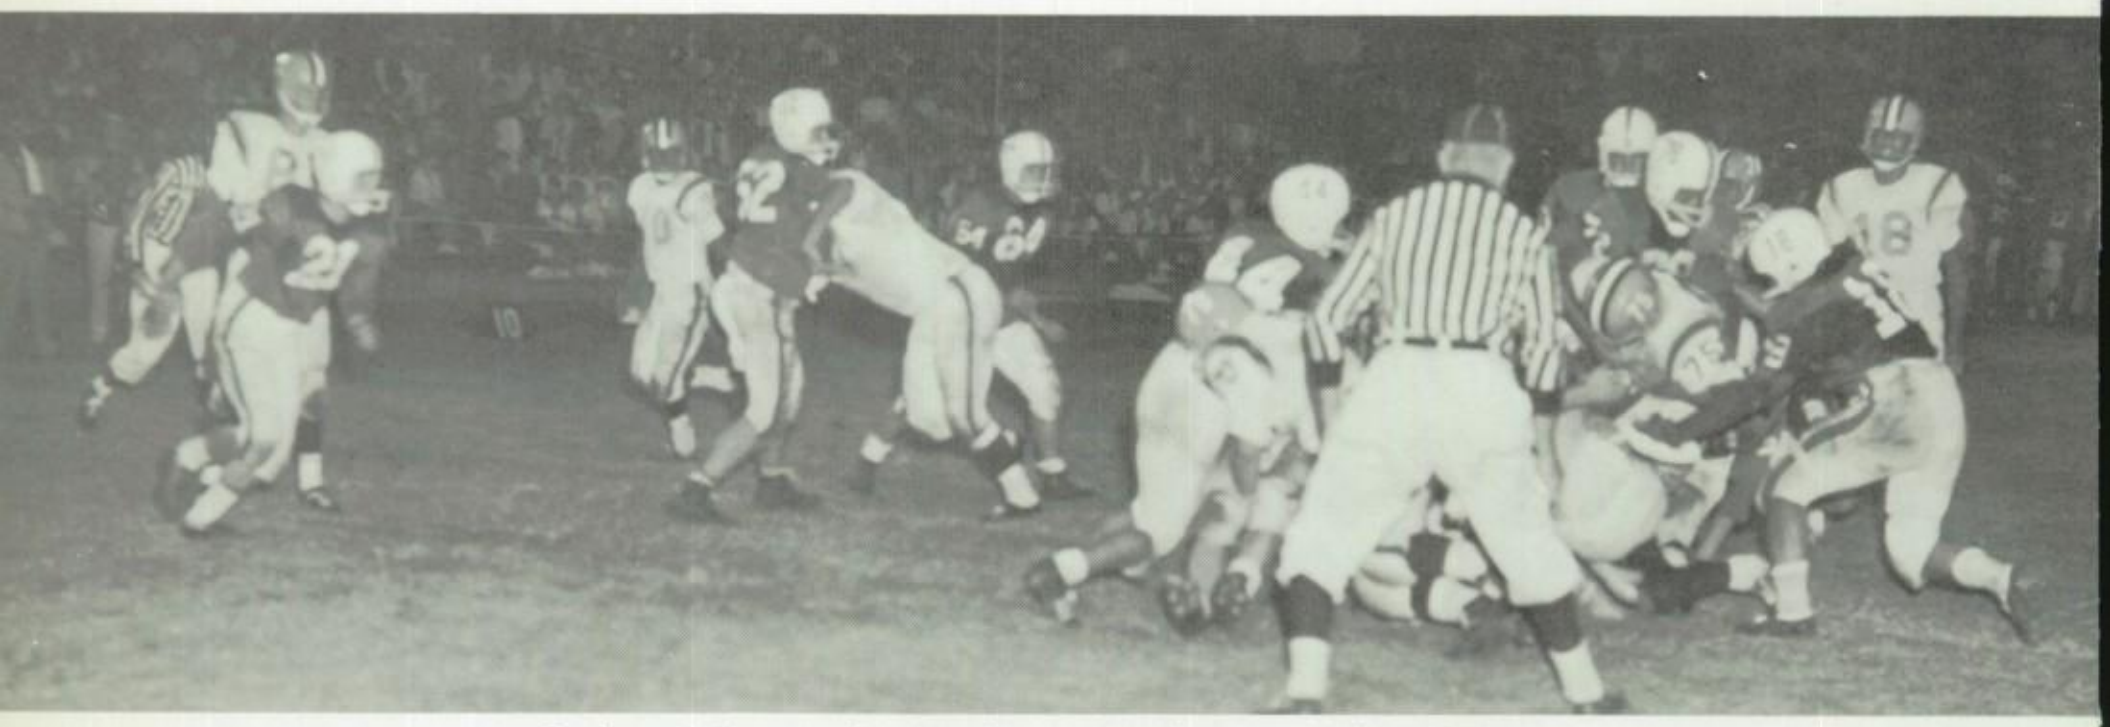
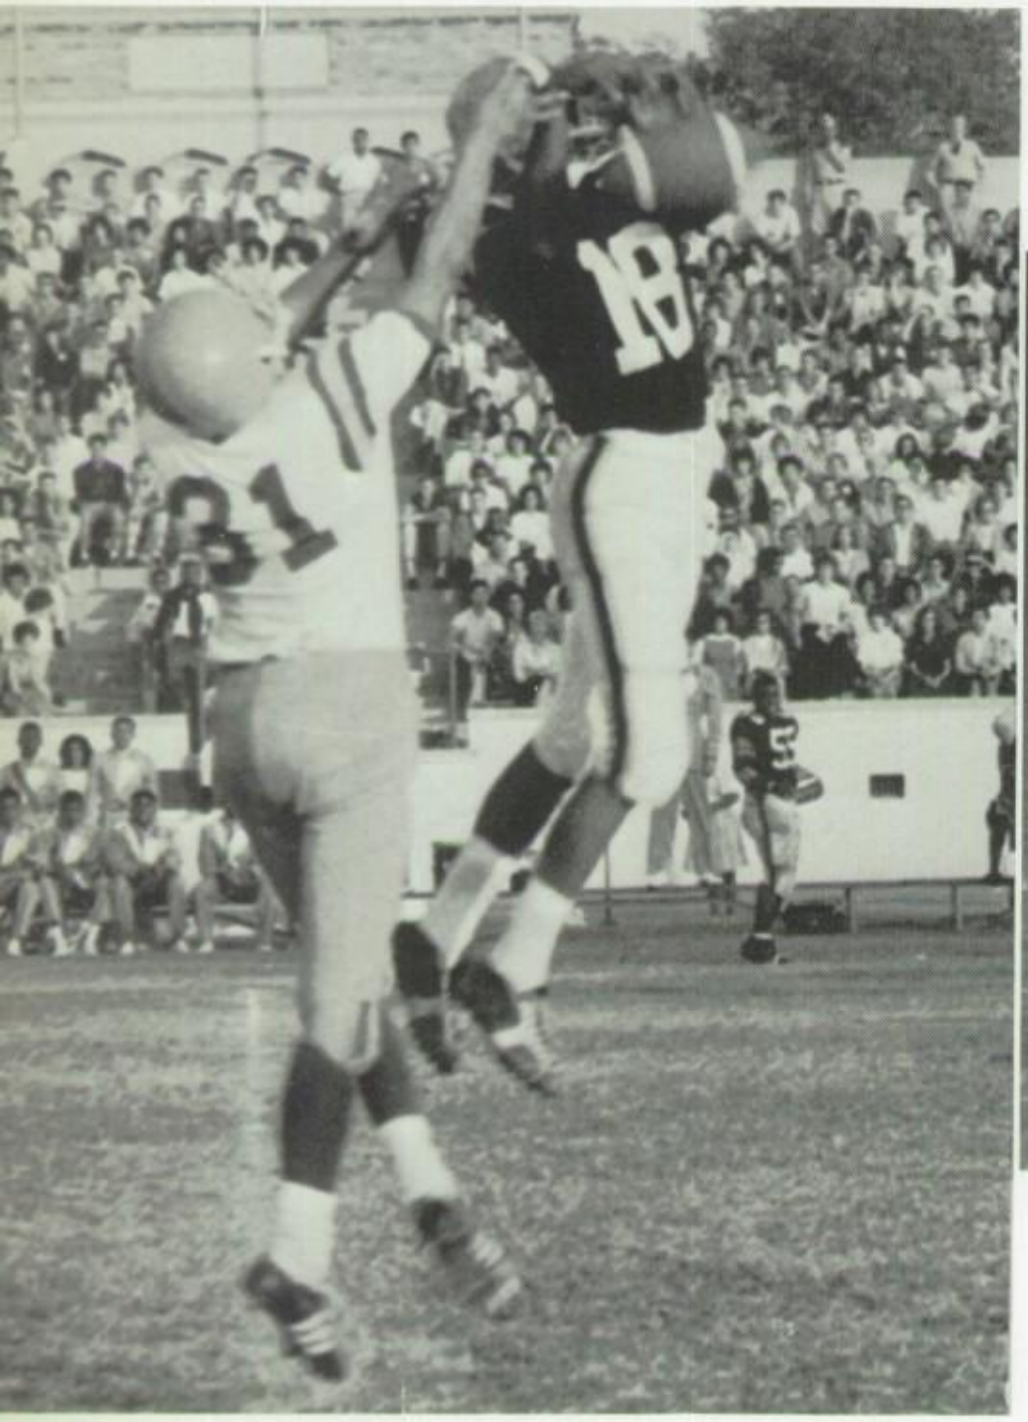
Romans Whip Venetians, Scalp Braves



It takes a whole swarm of Venice tacklers to bring down fullback Charles Butler (75).

Opening against Venice in their first game, L.A. started off the season in fine style by defeating them, 21-0. Both teams played sloppily in the first half, but L.A. scored three touchdowns and a safety while completely dominating the second half. Roger De Marr and Monwell Fuller were the defensive standouts. Charles Butler scored L.A.'s first touchdown, and Anderson Ball converted. Clarence Carr sprinted 39 yds. for the second. Then Larry Galper and Ted Wortrich trapped the Venice punter in the end zone for a safety. Spencer Washington threw a 34-yd. pass to Irwin Williams for the final tally.



Don Parker (18) breaks up a Birmingham pass.

Clarence Carr (20) starts off on a long run again
Ken Santord (41), Ted Wortrich (70)

L.A., which completely dominated Birmingham, 19-14, scored the first time they got the ball, with Ken Grandy taking the opening kickoff 55 yds. to the 25 yd. line. Charles Butler boomed into score. Then L.A., under the fine leadership of Don Parker and Spencer Washington, and the running of Clarence Carr, scored again. Willie Jenkins kicked the conversion. Mickey Sato scored L.A.'s final T.D. from 7 yds. out. Birmingham tallied later in the fourth quarter on L.A.'s reserves. Sato was the leading ground gainer with 104 yds. Roger De Marr was a "Rock of Gibraltar" for L.A.

L. A. Upset by Granada, Nipped by Poly

Don Gray (21) and Clarence Carr (20) bring down a Granada Hills back as Monwell Fuller (82), Roger De Marr (64), Ken Broadnax (71) and Henry Wagoner (60) help.

An overconfident Roman team suffered its first loss of the season to a pepped-up Granada Hills eleven, 6-0. The night's only score came on a tackle eligible play. L.A. had one touchdown called back and had 115 yds. marched off against them in penalties. Every drive L.A. started ran out of gas close to the Granada goal line. The top defensive star on L.A.'s line was once again guard Roger De Marr, who seemed headed for all-city honors. Kenneth Broadnax and Monwell Fuller also were outstanding.

Granada Hills. Other Romans in the picture are Don Parker (18), Larry Galper (81), Mickey Sato (33), John Key (55), Roger De Marr (64), and Monwell Fuller (82).

After Poly scored on its first series of plays, L.A. drove down to the Poly 4 yd. line, where they fumbled. Larry Galper recovered a Poly fumble and Mickey Sato ran 8 yds. for the T.D. Willie Jenkins converted to tie the score. Poly then scored late in the third quarter. Fine running by Ken Grandy, and top defensive work by Ken Broadnax and Roger De Marr lessened the blow of the 13-7 defeat.

Romans Trounced by Toilers, Edged by Dons

Don Parker (18) races through Toiler defense as Mickey Sato (throwing block), Roger De Marr (64), Henry Wagoner (60), Ken Broadnax (71) and John Key (55) lead interference.

Manual defeated L.A., 25-6, by capitalizing on Roman mistakes. L.A. contained Manual's ground game and no scoring came until the Toilers threw a long T.D. pass late in the first quarter. Manual scored again after the second half opened, but then L.A. roared back as Clarence Carr ran eight yards for the T.D. Then Manual took advantage of two Roman miscues to score twice more and wrap up the game. Roman drives were stopped several times deep inside Manual's territory, and it was L.A.'s inability to cash in on these scoring opportunities that brought defeat to the Roman eleven. Ken Grandy once again was the only Roman to do a consistent job of breaking through the tough opponent's defense. Backbone of L.A.'s defense were Richard Kirschner, Ken Broadnax, Monwell Fuller, and Roger De Marr.

Rome's pass defense was its downfall, as all Dorsey scores came as the result of passes. The game's first touchdown came as Ken Grandy ran 63 yards for a six-pointer. Willie Jenkins converted. Then Dorsey got into the act as they went through the air to the Roman 20 and scored on a double reverse. Dorsey again scored on a 75 yard pass play. However, Roger De Marr picked off a Dorsey pass and sprinted 75 yards to a T.D. Then Ken Grandy took a Dorsey punt on his own 15 and raced 85 yards to the end zone. With one minute to play, Dorsey hit on a touchdown pass that tied the score at 19 all. On the all-important conversion try, Dorsey, faking a kick, passed successfully and the Dons had a 20-19 victory. Grandy set the pace for L.A. on offense, but Spencer Washington came through with some fine passing. Defensively it was Roger De Marr, Larry Galper, Monwell Fuller, Ken Broadnax, and Richard Kirschner who carried the load for L.A.

Ken Grandy (40) breaks away on an 85-yard punt return against Dorsey, as Ted Wortrich (70), Hiro Mizue (61), and Larry Galper (81) block.

Romans Down Jeff, Are Clobbered by Generals

Ray May (72) and Bill Miller (84) haul down Jeff's Arthur Brownlee, as Vaughn Byers (85) and Ken Broadnax (71) rush up to help.

L.A. finally broke the ice by winning a league game, 20-6. The contest started out as if Jeff would defeat L.A., as the Demos scored early in the first quarter. L.A. came back in the second quarter and tallied, with Clarence Carr going over for the T. D. In the second half Spencer Washington came into his own as he threw two touchdown passes to Monwell Fuller. Both times Ted Wortrich converted. Clarence Carr moved the ball well, gaining a total of 57 yards. However, it was L.A.'s passing game that shone. Washington completed 50 per cent of his passes for 123 yards. Daniel Andrews completed two passes for 19 yards. L.A.'s defense took on a new luster as Fuller blocked a punt, and Richard Kirschner and Roger De Marr both intercepted passes. Larry Galper, Ken Broadnax, and Charles Butler also played well on defense.

Romans Capture Third in League

Washington, showing a fine running game, clobbered L.A. in the final game of the season, 44-7. It was a case of nothing going right for L.A., as 31 of Washington's points were scored as the result of intercepted passes or on fumbles. In fact, L.A. lost the ball on fumbles four times and had three passes intercepted. The first score by the Generals came when L.A.'s line had apparently trapped a Washington halfback, but he broke loose for an 85 yard run. L.A. scored on Spencer Washington's fine throwing as he tossed to Captain Monwell Fuller for the T.D. Once again Roger De Marr, Fuller, Ted Wortrich, and Charles Butler led L.A.'s defense. A win would have given L.A. second place in final league standings, but the Romans had to settle for third.

Washington halfback fails to elude Ted Wortrich (70), John Key (55), Clarence Carr (20), Don Parker (18) and Henry Wagoner (60).

Rome's varsity cagers tied for fourth in the rough Southern League race. L.A., however, was no push-over. The team, led by McCail Smith, Corvan Milby, Greg Gray, Greg Ziskind, and Bernard Wilkins, gave league champ Jefferson some rough moments as they out-scored them in the first quarter. The Romans nearly upset city champ Fremont, and only through a last-minute scoring binge were they beaten by the Pathfinders. Another highlight was a 70-51 victory over the Washington Generals.

J.V.'s Champs, Bees Fourth in S.L.

"The Jayvee cagers took a first in one of the toughest basketball leagues in the nation," said Coach Henry Pollard in commenting on the season record of Rome's junior varsity basketball team. The Jayvees soundly defeated all but one league opponent. The standouts of this year's team were Steve Jennings, Jim Clifton, Wesley Ozaki, Willie Hearnton, Gary Ichimura, Daniel Willis, Ronald Fairly, and Marty Schoen. Based on comparative scores, the Romans were probably the best jayvee squad in the city.

Coach Muir

The Bee cagers took a fourth in league behind the leadership of Ken Kitagawa, Victor Allen, Vaughn Butler, Ray Carter, and Whit Hilliard. The team played good ball throughout the season. A one-point, three-period over-time loss to Jefferson typified the season. The Bees had a sound team, but just couldn't win the close ones.

Cee's Tie For League Title

The Cee casabamen tied with Dorsey for a first in league. They came on strong toward the tail end of the season, winning six in a row, before losing their final contest to the Dons. Most valuable player and high point man was Lester Nakasone. Others who helped Rome win the crown were Joseph Mills, John Woolery, Aaron Iverson, and David Shell.

L. A. Varsity Harriers Win City Championship

L.A.'s SOLID SEVEN—Marshall Edelman, Laurence Garrett, Rex Freeman, Bill Myers, Don Aubry, Victor McCosar, and Julian Quarles.

L.A.'s varsity cross country team took the city championship with an unblemished 11-0 record. This was the first undefeated season in Rome's varsity cross country history. The most valuable runner was Marshall Edelman, who placed eighth in city. League champ Laurence Garrett was also one of the key men, along with reliable Bill Myers. Victor McCosar, Rex Freeman, Don Aubry and Julian Quarles added the strength needed to give Rome the city crown. Winning the championship was the result of two things—hard work on the part of the team and the coaching talent of Mr. Homer Graves,who has been L.A.'s cross country mentor for fourteen years.

J. V.'s In Fine Season

The J.V. cross country team copped a second in league and a fourth in city. Led by Ken Carline and Marco Peterson, the team finished the season in fine style. The varsity, J.V.'s and 10th grade teams had a combined dual meet record of 26 wins and one loss. This is believed to be the best over-all record ever compiled by a Roman cross country team.

Sophs Win League Crown

FIRST ROW: Gerald Mason, Steve Russell, Kyle Shakesnider, Arthur Edmonds, Pete Hewett. SECOND ROW: Allan Fabrick, Marco Escobar, Jose Hernandez, Michael Ford, Rick Mantel, Alvin Carline.

Taking a first in league and a seventh in city was the fine accomplishment of Rome's tenth grade cross country team. The team never lost a dual meet. "It is important to remember that these tenth graders supply an indication of our success in cross country in the next two years," said Coach Homer Graves.

Hiro Mizue, most valuable varsity football player.
